Greetings from the University of Sunderland!

The University of Sunderland takes pride in being a place where dreams begin, and lives are changed. We seek to equip our students with the knowledge, skills, and experience to prepare them for work – and for life.

Indeed, our Chancellor from November 2023, Leanne Cahill – Chief Executive Officer of retail company, Bravissimo – is a University of Sunderland graduate, demonstrating that our students go on to achieve great things.

How do we do make that happen? It's simple; through our outstanding and innovative teaching, our cutting-edge facilities, and a team of academics and professional support staff who put you, and your needs, at the heart of all we do.

Whether it's helping secure your ideal career or receiving a helping hand from our highly skilled wellbeing team, we aim to support you, both in and out of the lecture theatre, laboratory, or seminar room.

Even better, our support to students is evolving with the times. With the cost-of-living crisis affecting people across the country, we have increased hardship funding for students, and provide extensive financial and practical support on managing money.

While accommodation costs in the northeast of England remain more affordable than in other parts of the country, Sunderland is a city on the 'up.' In fact, we are now a University with over 27,500 students in our campuses in Sunderland, London, and Hong Kong and with global partner universities and colleges, as well as those who study online with us.

But we remain a university on a small enough scale to allow you to feel more than just a name or a number. Rather, you are someone who really matters to us.

Our progress has been recognised in the Guardian University Guide 2023 as we appeared in the list of the Top 50 UK universities. This reflects the outstanding work done by students and staff over recent years.

So, the message is simple – come and join us!

SIR DAVID BELL KCB DL Vice-Chancellor and Chief Executive

COME HERE. GET MORE.

So you're thinking of studying in the UK at the University of Sunderland. This could be a life-changing decision.

Students from over 100 countries call Sunderland home and our qualifications are recognised all over the world. Your time here will shape your life and career, opening up opportunities for you globally.

As well as finding a full list of courses, we'll tell you everything you need to know about our first-class facilities, accommodation options and support networks – plus all the amazing things going on in our friendly campuses.

This is a University that's bursting with opportunity. So wherever in the world you're coming from, and wherever you want to go, we can help you get there.

OUR FUTURE IS BRIGHT

Over the next ten years, we are investing £250m in our facilities. Phase one will see a major redevelopment of The Sir Tom Cowie Campus to create a modern library and student centre, improvements in Computer Science and Engineering and an International Business School. We will see improvements in the Faculty of Business, Law and Tourism and the Faculty of Technology. These will include a moot court, esports and market research lab and a tech-based, collaborative workspace. We will also move to a new campus in London, which will significantly improve the space and facilities we offer students who choose to apply and study there.

Phase two will build on previous investment in health and health-related innovation at the University's City Campus, including the creation of the Sunderland Health Innovation Zone and a new sports ground.

Our courses and facilities are spread across two campuses, one in the heart of the city, and the other on the banks of the River Wear. Whether you study by the sea or in the centre of the city, our excellent amenities mean you can make the most of Sunderland student life.

CITY CAMPUS

Right in the heart of Sunderland - with everything you could need right on the doorstep.

SUBJECT AREAS:

Health Sciences and Wellbeing - Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Pharmaceutical and Cosmetic Sciences, Psychology, Sport and Exercise Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, Physiological Sciences

Creative Arts - Fine Art, Design, Music, and Performing Arts LOCATIONS

HELEN MCARDLE NURSING AND CARE RESEARCH INSTITUTE

The Helen McArdle Nursing and Care Research Institute focuses on developing and delivering high quality applied health care research and knowledge exchange studies. We work closely with external partners in the NHS, local authority, voluntary, commercial, and wider health and care settings, to identify and solve real-world issues. The findings of our work are applied to healthcare practice and policy to make a difference to patients, populations, and professionals, and contribute towards supporting our students to prepare for careers in health and care.

BSc (Hons) Adult Nursing Practice Tyne Hospitals, NHS Foundation Trust

A visit to an open day at the University of Sunderland gave Kieran the confidence to pursue his nursing career.

66 I had always wanted a career in nursing but felt I wasn't academic enough. However, after speaking to the lecturers who teach on the course, I was given the confidence to leap into nursing and university-life.

Kieran really enjoyed his placements and working in the mock hospital wards with the simulation manikins.

He also received support from the Disability Support team for his dyslexia.

66 I would absolutely recommend the University of Sunderland to future

students, based on the experiences

I have had. 99

we had support from the University."

Now working as a Community Nurse, Kieran credits the University of Sunderland with allowing him to experience many different elements of nursing and helping him excel in his current role.

THOMAS CEPE

Engineering graduate

(Formula One), Italy

66 I chose the University of Sunderland because of its facilities and its connections with industry. I enjoyed my course which was very technical and practical, and the facilities allowed me to turn my designs into a reality. The general support, standard of lectures and workshops was at a high level.

I loved that Sunderland is close to the coast. and Newcastle and Durham. I made friends with other international students and learnt about different cultures. The Students' Union's sport and night life allowed me to socialise with people outside of my course.

My placement fuelled my desire to pursue a career as a Design Engineer in motorsport. I worked for Ferrari for seven years specialising in chassis design for F1 cars and I now run my own engineering company.

"A highlight of my studies was undertaking my work placement in motorsport. After that, my career choice was easy."

SY AHMED

BA (Hons) Fashion Product and Promotion

Sy Ahmed, an entrepreneur who made his name in London, and featured in a recent edition of Vogue Italia chose to return to his home City of Sunderland to study his degree.

66 I picked up my first Vogue magazine at just 15. I'm sure people thought I was strange, but I didn't care.

At the time, I was interested in the high-end side of fashion and I'd do whatever job I could to save enough money just to buy one piece of clothing. "

While studying, he juggles working for fashion houses, uni work, as well as just launching his own brand Supremetosociety, which is already gathering a huge following.

MPharm Pharmacy graduate Advanced Pharmacist Practitioner, South Tyneside and Sunderland NHS Foundation Trust

66

Sunderland Pharmacy School is known as one of the best in the country and people from the region are very friendly. This put me at ease when making my decision to move to the UK.

The University prepares you properly for a career as a Pharmacist; I graduated with the right skills and knowledge to be successful. There is a good mix of students with diverse backgrounds and there is something for everyone.

In my current role I'm mainly based in the Acute Medicine ward where I go on ward rounds with Consultants and Junior Doctors prescribing the majority of patients' medications and acute treatments.

Get More:

"My proudest moment was securing my current role as the youngest Advanced Pharmacist in the department when everyone told me not to apply because they believed I was inexperienced."

I'm interested in pursuing a role which looks at pharmacy sustainability and tackling carbon emissions from medicines and waste in the NHS. I'm also considering studying for a masters which would advance my career in the area I'm most interested in.

FLORIAN HILDEBRAND, FROM GERMANY

Mechanical Engineering graduate Co-founder and Managing Partner of Qualifyze

Florian graduated at the University and believes studying in the UK equipped him with all the skills required in any business.

As co-founder of Qualifyze, they use a global digital network to help pharmaceutical companies manage quality and compliance in their supply chains.

Historically, companies had to fly around the globe to inspect and audit their supplier facilities, but due to the pandemic this was not possible anymore.

By leveraging global networks and digital technologies, we were able to still perform these critical inspections for those companies by using local resources, removing the need for travel and converting to online auditing.

Get More:

"Obviously we are not the heroes in the pandemic. Those people such as care workers, nurses and doctors are the real heroes. But it's great that on a small level we've made a difference in supporting the supply chain."

Covid-19 has dealt an unprecedented blow to global supply chains, but Florian feels that he, and his team, have helped Pharma companies bridge the challenges.

Nursing graduate Operating Room Nurse, University of Abuja Teaching Hospital

I was given the opportunity to study a top-up degree through my current employer. I decided to study at the University of Sunderland as it came highly recommended by my colleagues and the staff at the UKEAS Education exhibition I attended while deciding on which institution to study at.

In my current role I coordinate the healthcare services for the surgical patients in my care.

I would recommend the top-up course to any nurse who has the right practical experience. Work hard and make use of the many learning-enhancing facilities available at this student friendly institution; such as the library, the campuses, the excellent accommodation, and transport links to and from both campuses.

The future I believe holds great prospects for me; I hope to pursue my interest in quality improvement and patient safety at postgraduate level. The continually evolving roles of the contemporary nurse is a great challenge but one that I'm willing to face

Thank you University of Sunderland for this life-changing experience. 99

PhD Computer Science graduate Owner of Dataknead

66 Dataknead is a start-up business that specialise in data analytics and machine learning tools to discover, learn, and make sense of data from different sources.

The Enterprise Place helped me to set up my own business; from the initial stages of writing a business plan, the start-up skills course, ongoing business advice, as well as information on funding opportunities. Dataknead were runners up for Santander Universities Enterprise Seed Fund Business Pitch.

I first heard about the University during an Expo Fair. I later enrolled as an undergraduate student, and then went on to complete my MSc and PhD at Sunderland.

The University is a life-changing community with a blended culture and inclusion for all.

The amount of data available on the web is growing rapidly and people are turning to intelligent driven activities. My focus is to steer Dataknead to be part of the journey, actively participate in research and development using emerging technologies. >>

MICHAEL DITCHBURN

Graduate and employer

Operations Director, Mint Interactive

It was 2017 when I set up my digital learning company, ThinkBiscuit Media, which grew to 14 people before we merged with another organisation and became Mint Interactive Solutions in 2021.

Since 2017, we've relocated several times in Sunderland – starting in the Sunderland Software Centre. We are currently located in The Commissioner's Building, right in the city centre.

The main part of the organisation has been headquartered in Sunderland since I started the business (and the subsequent merger). Over the years I've taken on many graduates from the University of Sunderland (including three graduate interns). I love what the University does to help graduates and they've helped us create a really talented, ambitious team here at Mint Interactive. They offer a lot of support to businesses, which is important, as well as ongoing training.

of Sunderland, I found the University of Sunderland, I found the lectures to be extremely supportive and helpful. The modules I studied equipped me with the relevant knowledge and practice required for real-word business scenarios.

After I graduated, I applied for a marketing role through the Sunderland Graduate Internship Scheme who put me in contact with Michael and the team at ThinkBiscuit Media (now known as Mint Interactive). I was able to transition my marketing knowledge gained from my studies into a growing SME where I've since been promoted to Social Media and Marketing Manager.

DEVELOP YOUR ENTREPRENEURIAL SKILLS

If you want to develop entrepreneurial skills or have a potential business idea you would like to explore after graduation, the University is here to help you. We provide students and graduates with the opportunity to engage with exciting innovation challenges linked to the UN Sustainable Development Goals - which are the blueprint to achieving a better and more sustainable future for all.

For those who want to explore a real-life business idea after graduation via the Graduate Visa route, we offer a range of advice, and mentoring to help take that idea from concept to creation.

The team delivers support across two professional co-working spaces which provide opportunities to collaborate with other likeminded people and businesses so you won't feel alone while you see your idea come to life.

THE MARKETING HUB

The Marketing Hub is vital in helping you develop your marketing and employability skills with real-life working situations and learning, as well as careers advice, masterclasses, and networking opportunities.

You will have the chance to enter exciting challenges, including The Pitch Challenge set by the Chartered Institute of Marketing, where you tackle a brief set by a leading brand. Also, the Greggs University Challenge, where students in the northeast have the chance to create Greggs' next marketing strategy.

We even set our own Marketing Hub Consultancy Challenge, giving you the task of addressing a real-life business challenge.

BA (Hons) Screen Performance Assistant Director for Coronation Street

Katie Stubbs, a recent BA (Hons) Screen
Performance graduate, is already a Assistant Director (AD) on Coronation Street. Her soap experience started at Sunderland, spending her summer before her final year working as a AD on Emmerdale. Katie puts her success down to hard work and determination, but also to the support she received from the University of Sunderland. From being selected for the Lord
Puttnam Scholars Scheme to receiving funding from the Development Trust Scholarship, all helped her to believe in herself.

THE LAW CLINIC

The Law Clinic is a chance for you to put theory into practice. In your final year, you will become a solicitor in our student law firm and work with real clients on real cases. gaining authentic experience that can set you apart in a crowded job market.

You will work with those who might struggle to afford or access legal services on a variety of cases, including divorce, residential housing, and immigration. Supported by experienced solicitors, you'll learn the processes and procedures of working in a law clinic, and sharpen your skills in conducting interviews, and writing professional legal advice.

John Edwards graduated from the University of Sunderland in Law, and now manages the clinic. He believes that developing skills in the real-world is key to unlocking your potential as a Law student. "Here, you're actually learning the practical implications of what you're studying and you can see the effects of that... You can't learn this sort of stuff from a textbook."

LLB (Hons) Law with Integrated Foundation Year

After a personal tragedy, Jake was determined to pursue a career in law. Having taken part in the National Citizens Scheme at The Sir Tom Cowie Campus, he knew he liked the riverside campus and applied for the LLB (Hons) Law with an Integrated Foundation Year.

66 My favourite part of the course was the opportunity to work in the Law Clinic on live client cases. This gave me invaluable skills and extra learning opportunities. "

In his final year with us, Jake was awarded scholarships with Inner Temple and another institution to continue his studies. He said: 66 I can say with honest conviction that my experience was enjoyable and extremely successful after achieving my results, and that there are no negatives. "

Having graduated from Sunderland, Jake is on track to reach his goal of becoming a barrister and practicing criminal law with the Crown Prosecution Service.

OUR COMMITMENT TO SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Environmental sustainability is one of the most important and urgent issues facing our society. The University is focused on specific, practical and measurable actions which will have a real and lasting impact on the environment.

CREATING A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

We are committed to an ambitious target to reduce Scope 1 & 2 carbon emissions to netzero by 2040 and reduce Scope 3 emissions to net-zero by 2050.

BUILDING MODERN SUSTAINABLE BUILDINGS

Our new Anatomy Centre on City Campus incorporates renewable electricity generation and 100% of the heat demand will be met by decarbonised technologies.

REDUCING THE USE OF CARBON-DEPENDENT LITILITIES

Recently, we have installed solar panels on many university buildings including Prospect, Edinburgh, CitySpace and Gateway buildings, which are expected to generate a mass of free. renewable electricity each year. We also have another large solar project underway at our Sir Tom Cowie Campus.

Our new Anatomy Centre incorporates renewable heat and solar electricity generation in its design.

MAKING OUR CAMPUS GREENER

A greener campus not only helps the environment, but also the mental wellbeing of you and our staff. We have two new gardens for everyone to enjoy on our City Campus; planting wildflowers will help to develop the area's biodiversity, as well as working with our Students' Union on a tree planting project.

SUSTAINABLE TRAVEL

Through a range of projects – such as further investing in internal electric vehicles and encouragement of cycling, walking and car sharing - you will have a range of low carbon, healthy and sustainable travel options.

Virtual tour of some of Sunderland's attractions rom big events to unique attractions like the National Glass Centre and Northern Gallery for Contemporary Art, there's always something to do in Sunderland.

Highlights have included:

- The Sunderland Illuminations, which light up the autumn evenings every year
- Sunniside Live, the summer-long festival of music and dance which brings in visitors from across the country
- The annual Kubix Festival (who we partner with) and Let's Rock The North East Festival in Herrington Country Park which has amazing band line-ups
- A string of vibrant independent bars, pubs, restaurants, and coffee shops hosting regular live music nights, reading and writing groups, craft clubs and more

Furthermore, an exciting partnership named Sunderland Culture has been established between Sunderland City Council, University of Sunderland and Sunderland Music, Arts and Culture Trust.

The Cultural Spring which is University-led brings artists and performers together to work with communities across Sunderland and South Tyneside. It also offers volunteering and work experience opportunities.

The partnership presents a year-round programme of exhibitions, events and performances across National Glass Centre, Northern Gallery for Contemporary Art, Sunderland Museum and Winter Gardens, The Fire Station and Arts Centre Washington.

They attract walkers, surfers, runners and cyclists wanting to enjoy the fresh sea air, while the marina complex provides top-class facilities all year round.

FANCY A BIT OF SHOPPING?

For retail and entertainment experiences, try one of the UK's biggest shopping centres, Gateshead's Metrocentre. For both high-end and high street shops, head to Eldon Square in Newcastle, or south down the A19 to Dalton Park - Outlet - Shopping Centre. If you're into your vintage shops or arts and crafts, then you'll find plenty of outlets like the Quayside Market or Newcastle's Biscuit Factory to discover.

STEEPED IN HISTORY

There's a world of history to uncover in the north-east - you can immerse yourself in the past, as the beautiful coastline continues into the more rugged Northumberland with stunning coastal castles to explore. We have some of the best-known castles in the UK – try the imposing Bamburgh Castle or the spectacular ruins of Dunstanburgh. Scenes from the Harry Potter films were shot at Alnwick Castle and Alnwick Garden, where you can easily spend the day.

Further afield in the north of our region, visit the windswept Holy Island of Lindisfarne, cut off at high tide, or the bustling town of Whitby in the south, known for its outstanding fish and chips and its association with Dracula.

underland is a place that's as proud of its past as it is excited about its future. Nestled on the stunning north-east coastline, the city traces its roots back to Anglo Saxon times - and is currently seeing transformation on an unprecedented scale.

Hundreds of millions of pounds are being ploughed into exciting projects across Sunderland, that are creating world-class places to live, work and play. The result is a confident young city with a spring in its step.

SMART CITY OF THE YEAR

Sunderland was named Smart City Of The Year 2020 and the City Plan will provide social and digital transformation, steering a new way for everyone to live, work and thrive; our connected international city is ripe with opportunities for all.

At the heart of the transformation is Riverside Sunderland, a new district on the edge of the city centre, with its toes dipped in the nearby River Wear. The development will evolve both sides of the river, creating the UK's first carbon neutral urban guarter, where there will be a range of high-quality modern office spaces, cafés and eateries, a hotel and other leisure venues, and 1,000 ultrasustainable homes, where some 2,500 people will eventually live. Visit riversidesunderland.com

One million square feet of modern offices and commercial premises are being created as exciting new sites for businesses to grow. The Beam is the first office space on site - home to global grocery giant Ocado, as well as ambitious north-east firms, Asset55 and North East Screens. Standing to its east is City Hall, which has opened its doors to some 2,000+ employees. In addition, planning consent has already been granted for two further office spaces that will be developed, thanks to a £100m boost from Legal & General.

Fire Station Auditorium

CULTURAL INVESTMENT

A stone's throw away from the University, Sunderland's Cultural Quarter is taking shape.

The 500-seat Fire Station Auditorium, which is part of a multi-purpose building housing a restaurant, heritage centre and a dance and drama studio, has a packed programme and welcomes hundreds of visitors.

The Auditorium is Sunderland's talked-about performance venue, hosting live music, comedy, arts, and theatre events. It is used by the local community, and our Performing Arts students, who work alongside dance and music industry students in the same space.

Excitingly, Fulwell 73, a media production company and the mastermind behind 'Sunderland 'Til I Die', have opened new offices on our campus. This will open up opportunities to collaborate with new talent in the region. In addition, plans to build an international film studio complex on the riverside in Sunderland have been recently announced with an ambition to create more than 10,000 jobs.

Recent developments on the sea front like Stack Seaburn - a social hub to relax and hang out with friends - as well as the brand-new Seaburn Inn are also adding a new dimension to the area. It's little surprise that it's becoming a popular spot for people, who want to take in the stunning coast with local fish and chips or a coffee and sweet treats from our beautiful local bakeries. and eateries.

The investment in public spaces is all contributing to an ever-more attractive place to live, study, work, and play.

Visit mysunderland.co.uk for up-to-date information on Sunderland's development.

GET EXCITED ABOUT THE FUTURE

There are always investments being made and exciting improvements being built in our city - and they'll bring even more experiences to our student community. Whether it's a drink with a view after lectures or a city centre you're proud to show visiting friends, the upcoming developments have it covered. Over the next few years, Sunderland will see huge changes to update and bring life to all areas of the city, from the city centre to the seafront. It's an exciting time to live, work and study here!

Here's a taste of some of the most recent developments that will add even more vibrancy to the place we - and you could - call home.

A NEW HUB FOR THE CITY

£27 million has been put into the building of a new attraction in the city, Culture House. It will host events, house a café, exhibitions, a roof garden and more for you and the wider community to enjoy.

AN EXCITING MUSIC AND EVENTS VENUE

Sunderland already has a bustling music scene, with the world's biggest artists touring here every year and a great local scene – and it's only getting bigger. A riverside stable block in a beautiful, listed building – Sheepfolds - is being transformed into a new venue for music, events, pop-up markets, bars, and restaurants.

BRAND NEW PLACES TO WORK, LIVE AND STAY

Multiple developments are taking place around the city, giving abandoned buildings a new lease of life to create hotels, offices and homes. From an old police station to an historic hotel and the site of a former brewery, the city is seeing drastic transformations, and we can't wait to see it come to life

EAT. DRINK AND SOCIALISE

Our food and drink scene are among the best in the region – and it's not slowing down. In fact, Sunderland was named 'Best UK city for independent restaurants'* with neighbouring Newcastle and Middlesbrough in the Top 20 list too. A new seafront bar is in the works, being built in an empty Victorian beachfront shelter. An all-you-can-eat steak house is coming to the city centre and an old storage shelter in Seaburn is being transformed into a new seafood restaurant. So there's plenty of tasty plans in the works.

AN ENTRANCE TO BE PROUD OF

Sunderland railway station is undergoing a huge £16 million project, with ambitious transformations giving our city an entrance it deserves. With new ticket offices, cafés, waiting areas, retail spaces currently being built, these developments will be incredible when they're completed over the next few years.

EQUALITY. DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION AT THE UNIVERSITY

We values and celebrates the diversity of all our students and staff. We are committed to providing an environment free from discrimination, bullying, harassment, or victimisation, where all members of our community are treated with respect and dignity.

We aim to create a culture of diversity and inclusion within our community, providing a dynamic working and learning environment. where all members are valued for their contribution and individuality. We recognise that to be truly effective. equality, diversity and inclusivity should be considered across all facets of the University's activity. Mainstreaming starts with effective policies and procedures and goes beyond this to the culture of our University. We aim to move equality, diversity, and inclusion away from being seen as a 'bolton' activity to being an integral part of the way our students and staff think and behave.

GET TO STUDY ABROAD

Looking to enhance your university experience with travel? We can help you if you are:

- · An international 'Study Abroad' student planning to come to Sunderland from your home university for one or two semesters
- · An international student doing your main degree in Sunderland, who is considering going outside the UK to a partner university for a semester or two during your degree

The internationally recognised Study Abroad programme is playing an increasingly important part in students' university courses across the globe, and many of those who choose a period of studying abroad come to the UK.

You can gain so much from living in another country and, at Sunderland, we do all we can to ensure that you receive a first-class education. We also give you extensive experience of international, national, and local culture, which further enriches your social, cultural and academic experiences.

Countries include Australia, Canada, USA. Malaysia. South Korea and a number of European countries.

MIRANDA SCHWANKE

FROM THE USA SPENT TIME AT SUNDERLAND DURING HER DEGREE AS A 'STUDY ABROAD' STUDENT

66 I always knew I wanted to go to another country. I come from Watertown, South Dakota, a fairly small town in a small state. I felt like experiencing another culture and being on my own so far away from home was something I needed to do to grow and really put myself to the test.

At my home university, I studied Studio Arts with an emphasis in animation. However, I wanted one solid year where I could focus on just animation, which led me to Sunderland.

Studying in another country was truly amazing. Everything here is so different, but in the end the people are the same all over the world.

You should take part in Study Abroad, even if it scares you a little, because it's that slight fear that will change your life and make your adventure that much more exciting. I can't tell you what exactly you will experience, that part is up to you, but I can say no matter where you go or how long you stay there, experiencing that culture is worth it. "

GET NETWORKING

With such a large international student network, you can be sure that your Sunderland experience will help open doors for you in countries around the world. Our graduates have fond memories of their time with us and are keen to support others who've enjoyed being a Sunderland student.

After graduation you become part of the University's Alumni Association, which provides a global network of over 200,000 former students in 190 countries.

You will be able to access alumni branches in places such as: Hong Kong, Malaysia, Nigeria, China, Singapore, Greece and Kenya, among many others. These run a number of in-country events with the University providing you with an opportunity to extend your professional network.

GIVING SOMETHING BACK

Many of our alumni also continue to support the University by acting as ambassadors, giving careers advice to students and supporting bursaries and scholarships through the Futures Fund.

Our online community enables you to stay involved no matter where you are in the world. You will benefit from careers advice, mentoring. professional development and access to the University's academic expertise.

By staying involved you can also keep in touch with friends and your department. Our alumni go on to great things, and so will you!

OUR REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTRY AND ENGLISH LANGUAGE ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS

The University recognises all internationally accredited qualifications. We will consider your application on its own merits and take into account other qualities you may have such as work and life experience.

For an undergraduate degree course, you will need the equivalent of a minimum of two UK General Certificate of Education (GCE) Advanced Level passes. Please see individual course information on the website for more details.

You can also apply for advanced entry to an undergraduate course (for example, level 2 or 3) if you have a diploma equivalent to one or two years of a UK honours degree in a relevant subject.

For postgraduate courses, you need to have a degree equivalent to a UK honours degree and, in some cases, relevant work experience.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

If English is not your first language, you will need to have achieved a score of 6 overall in the International English Language Testing Scheme (IELTS) with all element scores at 5.5 or higher. Please note: some courses require a higher level of English language - please read the relevant course description and particularly the course entry requirements.

We also accept Secure English Language Test (SELT) as recognised by the Home Office approved SELT provider. Your element scores need to be equivalent to those required for IELTS entry.

If you are applying for a Pre-sessional English Language course, you will need to have achieved a score of 4 or higher in IELTS for UKVI to be accepted on one of our pre-sessional courses. It must be from an approved UKVI test centre listed on the UKVI website: visit gov.uk and search for 'approved English language tests'.

Please note: not all English language requirements are listed. To find out more, please contact the Student Administration team.

MEET THE LOCALS

People from the north-east of England will be well aware of the name Mackems. The word Mackem derives from 'Mack 'em' or 'make them' and refers to Sunderland's proud history of making and building ships. Sunderland people 'Mackems', still make things - from software solutions and glass, to millions of Nissan cars.

The next few pages may give you some helpful insights into the friendly people of Sunderland.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM THE PEOPLE OF

LOCAL FOOD

You've heard of the phrase "When in Rome" but "When in Sunderland" you must sample some of the local delicacies. You could try the Pink Slice or the Saveloy Dip.

LOCAL USE OF WORDS

If you ring a UK-based call centre, the chances are that you could be talking to someone from the region.

Sunderland is a major hub for the contact centre industry due to the attractiveness of the regional accent and the friendliness of the people.

Here's a guide to a few common Sunderland phrases and words.

Ha'way - "Come on" or "Let's go"

Marra - your best mate

Ave - "ves"

Nor-"no"

Dinnit - "DON'T"

A'reet - "alright"

Clays - CLOTHES

Ganzie – a woolly jumper

Fish lot – fish and chips

I really love Sunderland. It's a very calm, convenient and nice place for a student to stay focused on their studies. I have made many friends from other countries, and we support each other throughout our studies, and socially too.

The lecturers who teach on this course are very supportive and always willing to give advice and help whenever we need it. I am really enjoying my time here.

For now, I'm going with the flow, but after graduation I hope to work in Europe, and eventually create my own brand of cosmetic products. 99

JAMES LONGMAN (ABOVE CENTRE) Media graduate

Former Supervising Producer, The Late Late Show with James Corden, USA

I wrote to production companies and executives, eventually getting work experience at the BBC on a music show The O-Zone. That experience got me an interview at MTV and got my first paid job as an intern.

MTV was a huge learning curve. There wasn't much money, so I got to do a little bit of everything – writing, shooting, lighting, sound, editing, directing, producing. The live shows were great as it was a real thrill to have an idea and then see it on screen two hours later.

Not long after graduating, I bumped into the executive of the Late Late Show at the Edinburgh TV festival. I said to him, "if you ever need a producer out there, think of me". Within two months I was in LA!

Now, I'm in charge of all of the celebrity segments of the Late Late Show and I'm lucky enough to work with some of the best talent in the world. We have previously won two Emmy Awards and were nominated again in 2021 for Friends: The Reunion. I have done shoots with Tom Cruise, Matt Damon and Ryan Reynolds, to name but a few. James Corden is full of ideas and encourages us to keep pushing things to make them better.

Sunderland was a great learning curve for me. The course was varied and very hands on, and teamwork was encouraged – and that's still key to what I do today.
